Wanted to find a safer and much easier way to run the installer, so I thought, screw it. Downloaded FFPsetup.exe from the inventor's site, and the program works great. Can anyone see anything wrong with the following process? I did this a while back, and I've since switched to a system which does not have the same set of problems I was having with the installer. The above does not work. To edit any property value, click on the property and type in the appropriate value.
